DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to applicant amendment filed on 03/08/2004.

- 2. Claims 1 9, are pending in this case. Claims 1, 4 and 7 are independent claims.
- The rejection of claims 1-9 under 35 USC 102 (b) as being anticipated by Carbonell et al. has been withdrawn pursuant to the applicant's argument.

Specification

4. The title of the Specification has been amended with "METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR DYNAMIC CREATION OF MIXED LANGUAGE HYPERTEXT MARKUP LANGUAGE CONTENT THROUGH MACHINE TRANSLATION".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 - 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lakritz U.S. Patent No. 6,623,529 B1 – filed Jan. 28, 1999.

Regarding independent claims 1, 4, and 7, Figure 12 of Lakritz discloses a computer system of Multilingual electronic document translation system, comprising the step of: creating text in the first language (Col. 21 line 49, for disclosing a document in English Language) using HTML 'lang' attribute (Col. 21 lines 43-47, for disclosing a n HTML language attribute of "language = french" to set at least one target language (Col. 21 line 49 "French") which is different from the first language [English]; and automatically programmatically translating the first language into said at least one target language (Col. 21 lines 49-59, for disclosing the user currently looking at an English document by a browser, and selecting the word "French" will cause the browser to send WebPlexer a request for the URL the language=french, and the WebPlexer will return the browser to the original document in the new language is French).

Regarding dependent claims 3, 6 and 9, Fig. 12 of Lakritz further discloses at least one target language comprises a plurality of languages (Fig. 12 [1210 - 1215] disclosing multiple target translation languages: English, French, German, Japanese, Italian, Spanish) resulting in translation into a mixed language content (Col. 13 lines 28 - 37, [disclosing a translation sequence 1026 with translation resoures 1207 - 1029 for target language of translation; and on Col. 14 lines 5 - 17, disclosing after completion of translation of workflow sequence 1206, the translated document or resulted of translation is install on the website 1203 and reference into mixlanguage content 1210:English, 1211:French, 1212: German, 1213:Japanese, 1214: Italian, 1215: Spanish]).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 5 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lakritz U.S. Patent No. 6,623,529 B1 – filed Jan. 28, 1999 in view of Grefenstette U.S. patent No. 6,396,951 filed on 12/23/1998.

Regarding dependent claims 2, 5 and 8, Lakritz as applied to claims 1, 4 and 7 above disclosed every aspect of applicant's claimed invention except for using Language Guessing to determine the first language.

Figs. 1 and 3A - 3C of Grefenstette disclose a system for translation from the first language to a second language or target language (Col. 1 line 66 - Col. 2 line 4) using Language Guessing to determine the first language (Fig. 3A Step S8, See Col. 6 lines 18 - 36).

Lakritz and Grefenstette are solving common subject matter of languages translation for internet-based system (See Gefenstette, Col. 8 lines 38 - 42, and Lakritz Col. 3 lines 25 - 37). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the Language Guessing for the first language taught by translation system of Gefenstette to translation system of Lakritz for the purpose of determine or identify the original language or language candidate to be translate if the original language is not know in advance (Grefenstte Col. 6 lines 17 - 34).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's argument is persuasive, however a new ground of rejection specially the references with Patent No.: US 6,623,529 B1 and US 6,396,951 B1 as noted supra is applying to this office action.

Prior art

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
